

21st Annual Awards Dinner

A Night to Remember

Tom Brokaw gave what one longtime Indiana business leader called the "best speech he has heard" in more than 60 years.

Community of the Year: Terre Haute Mayor Duke Bennett (right) and Indiana Chamber Chairman Mike Blakley.

Business Leader of the Year Mike Wells.

Government Leader of the Year Tony Bennett.

The record crowd of more than 1,500 at the Indiana Convention Center.

A Few of Our 2010 Highlights

Excitement was the name of the game for the more than 800 attendees at the fifth annual Best Places to Work in Indiana awards dinner.

Indiana Employee Health and Wellness Summit participants enjoyed the opportunity for some physical activity in addition to educational programming.

Communicator and pollster Frank Luntz (who returns in 2011 on March 16) provided powerful insights at the Legislative Dinner.

The annual Indiana Safety and Health Conference & Expo (the 2011 version begins on February 28) is the largest event of its kind in the state.

Indiana Business for Responsive Government and the Indiana Chamber team up for golf outings each summer.
