

Statehouse Success

Chamber's Issue Expert Team Delivers

Public policy has been a key part of the Indiana Chamber's mission since its inception in 1922, with an early focus on equal rail tariffs for Indiana shippers compared to business users in other states. The advocacy role has evolved and broadened over the years, but representing Indiana companies and their employees has always remained critical.

Today, the eight issue experts on the Chamber's government affairs team total more than 75 years with the organization and well over 100 years of experience in Statehouse advocacy. They, and the team that supports them, make the Chamber the largest and most effective business organization in the state – representing nearly 5,000 companies that employ 800,000 workers.
